EXPERIENCE

Ranger, Philmont Scout Ranch; Cimarron, NM Summer 2011

As a ranger at Philmont, I had to lead groups of 8-10 teenagers and 2-3 adults on the first three days of a ten day backpacking trip. I was responsible for teaching them the outdoor skills necessary to have a safe trip, foster positive group dynamics and leadership skills

Elegant Technologies, Intern; Cincinnati, OH 2012

As an intern I was responsible for making modifications to the company's build systems, and add different reporting metrics to their Jenkins job so their full time developers would spend less time trying to understand why the build was failing. I also built a back end tool that helped the developers debug file permissions errors.

Teaching Assistant, Washington University in St. Louis; St. Louis, MO 2013-2015

While a student at Washington University, I served as a teaching assistant to the introductory Computer Science class. I helped redesign the course, and was responsible for getting the T.A.s up to speed on the new course material.

Software Developer, TripAdvisor; Newton, MA Summer 2013, 2015-Present

Built out landing pages and tracking infrastructure on TripAdvisor's android app for my Helped migrate internal web app from old SOAP/Struts stack to a modern technology stack (DropWizard backend, React/Redux for Front End)
Work on full development stack - from UI changes to database schema changes.

GPA: 3.74/4.0

PROJECTS I AM PROUD OF

Nurse's Dilemma - A game I worked on for the Chi+Med game design competition, that tasked teams with creating a game that would get people reflecting on the causes of human error and raise awareness of blame culture within a healthcare context. Found at http://www.errordiary.org/?page_id=9031

Wise Wrestlers - A Twitter bot that falsely attributes an inspirational quote to a famous WWE wrestler once a time. Found at <https://twitter.com/wisewrestlers>
